

PAMELA .V. CARMICHAEL

Certified Financial Education Instructor | Author | Encourager | Coach

SHORT Bio (34 words)

Pamela Carmichael is a passionate educator of financial empowerment for people. Her Financial Empowerment Initiative produces workshops and seminars centered on financial literacy education. Connect with Pamela and download her free training at www.pamelavcarmichael.com.

FULL Bio (304 words)

Pamela Carmichael, B.Sc., CFEI

Author, Encourager, Financial Empowerment Coach

Pamela Carmichael is a passionate educator of financial empowerment for people. Her Financial Empowerment Initiative produces workshops and seminars centered on financial literacy education.

Pamela is concerned over the general lack of fundamental and basic financial education of both youth and adults. Pamela combines her passion to see others succeed with her 18+ years' experience in the financial services industry to train others to effectively manage their finances. Her concern for those who struggle financially led her to authoring the award-winning book titled Financial Empowerment: Re-align Your Finances to God's Will.

Pamela's desire to deliver quality financial education inspired her to gain the Certified Financial Education Instructor (National Financial Education Council) designation. She is also a member of the Personal Finance Speakers Association. Pamela conducts financial empowerment workshops, speaking events, money life coaching programs to help people move from financial struggle to success and significance. She also shares insights on her Living Success blog relating to managing your personal finances and to living successfully through the study and application of God's word.

Pamela has a Bachelor's degree in Economics & Accounting (University of the West Indies Cave Hill Campus) and has a successful career as a financial services professional with over 18 years' experience. Along with her financial education certification, she is also a Certified Professional Coach (Wainwright Global, Inc.; Institute of Professional Coaching) and a Success Principles Certified Coach.

An author, a teacher, an encourager, a coach and more, Pamela combines her passion for financial empowerment along with her experience and training in financial services, financial education and life coaching to educate and motivate people to take action toward achieving financial freedom and personal success that multiplies into positive changes in society.

>> Ready to become financially empowered? Check out Pamela's resources on www.pamelavcarmichael.com